Oversight Systems Launches No-Risk, Pay-As-You-Go Continuous Analysis Solutions

Customers get real-time, plain-language alerts that drive ongoing hard-cash ROI

ATLANTA – June 26, 2012 – Oversight Systems, the leader in Continuous Analysis (CA) software, today announced rapid deployment Software as a Service (SaaS) offerings. These new solutions are free from implementation fees or long-term commitments. As a result, they represent an exceptional value for organizations seeking to benefit from the company's proven experience delivering packaged business analytics for some of world's largest organizations.

"We do more continuous analysis than anyone," says Patrick Taylor, CEO of Oversight Systems. "Trillions of transactions per year. These new offerings give our customers all of our best-practices expertise and plain-language insights with no up-front costs."

By applying real-time business analytics to financial transactions and Big Data sources, Oversight's Continuous Analysis applications drive better decisions by delivering the right information to the right people, at exactly the time it's needed most. The company's deep experience in both industry and financial management analysis provides a crucial advantage for organizations seeking to:

- Make all purchases at the best price across global operations
- Increase control over purchase cards, even as usage expands
- Enforce Travel & Entertainment (T&E) card usage policy
- Stop duplicate or improper payments before cash is disbursed
- Stop fraud and Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (FCPA) violations

"Think about what it means to the bottom line if every employee received the right analysis to make just one better business decision a day," continues Taylor. "We know what analytics you need to solve daily business challenges. We find those hidden opportunities and deliver insights in ordinary language so you can act."

Oversight's new delivery options make it easier than ever for organizations to benefit from the company's advanced predictive analytics. These proven solutions are now available via month-to-month plans, without installation fees and with satisfaction guarantees.

"We realize that Oversight represents a powerful new way of looking at financial transactions," continues Taylor. "Month-to-month offerings and rapid deployment options are a great way for anyone, even smaller organizations, to generate hard cash savings, stop fraud and generate competitive advantage."

All Oversight solutions and delivery options are available immediately. For more information, email sales@oversightsystems.com, or call the company at 770-984-4650.
